

Extension of administration building in Heddesheim

The construction work to expand our administration building in Heddesheim (Benzstraße 1) started in October 2023 and is expected to last up to 12 months. We would therefore like to point out that there may be temporary restrictions on access to our administration during this time.

The car park of the administration building is currently only available for visitors. The green area marks the area that will be used as a visitor car park for the coming months. The red area cannot be used due to the construction work. Access to the administration building from the green area is possible via a small path directly by the building (green arrow).
